5 SEC. 101. FINDINGS.

6 Section 101 of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency
7 Prevention Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 5601) is amended to 8 read as follows:

9 "FINDINGS

10 "SEC. 101. (a) The Congress finds the following:

11 "(1) There has been a dramatic increase in ju-12 venile delinquency, particularly violent crime com-
13 mitted by juveniles. Weapons offenses and homicides 14 are 2 of the fastest growing crimes committed by ju-15 veniles. More than 1/2 of juvenile victims are killed
16 with a firearm. Approximately 1/5 of the individuals 17 arrested for committing violent crime are less than 18 18 years of age. The increase in both the number of 1 youth below the age of 15 and females arrested for 2 violent crime is cause for concern.

3 “(2) This problem should be addressed through 4 a 2-track common sense approach that addresses the 5 needs of individual juveniles and society at large by 6 promoting—

7 “(A) quality prevention programs that—

8 “(i) work with juveniles, their fami-
9 lies, local public agencies, and community-
10 based organizations, and take into consid-
11 eration such factors as whether or not ju-12 veniles have been the victims of family vio-
13 lence (including child abuse and neglect); 14 and

15 “(ii) are designed to reduce risks and 16 develop competencies in at-risk juveniles 17 that will prevent, and reduce the rate of, 18 violent delinquent behavior; and 19 “(B) programs that assist in holding juve-

20 niles accountable for their actions, including a 21 system of graduated sanctions to respond to 22 each delinquent act, requiring juveniles to make 23 restitution, or perform community service, for 24 the damage caused by their delinquent acts, 25 and methods for increasing victim satisfaction

1 with respect to the penalties imposed on juve-
2 niles for their acts.

3 “(b) Congress must act now to reform this program 4 by focusing on juvenile delinquency prevention programs, 5 as well as programs that hold juveniles accountable for 6 their acts. Without true reform, the criminal justice sys-
7 tem will not be able to overcome the challenges it will face 8 in the coming years when the number of juveniles is ex-9 pected to increase by 30 percent.”.

10 SEC. 102. PURPOSE.

11 Section 102 of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency
12 Prevention Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 5602) is amended to 18 prevent juvenile involvement in delinquent behavior;

19 “(2) to assist State and local governments in 20 promoting public safety by encouraging accountabil-21 ity for acts of juvenile delinquency; and

22 “(3) to assist State and local governments in 23 addressing juvenile crime through the provision of 24 technical assistance, research, training, evaluation,
25 and the dissemination of information on effective 26 programs for combating juvenile delinquency.”.

21 (a) FINDINGS.—Section 402 of the Missing Chil-
22 dren’s Assistance Act (42 U.S.C. 5771) is amended—

23 (1) in paragraph (7), by striking “and” at the 24 end;

1           (2) in paragraph (8), by striking the period at 2           the end and inserting “; and”; and

3           (3) by adding at the end the following:

4           “(9) for 14 years, the National Center for Miss-5           ing and Exploited Children has—

6                   “(A) served as the national resource center 7                   and clearinghouse congressionally mandated 8                   under the provisions of the Missing Children’s 9                   Assistance Act of 1984; and 10                   “(B) worked in partnership with the De-11                   partment of Justice, the Federal Bureau of In-12                   vestigation, the Department of the Treasury,

13                   the Department of State, and many other agen-14                   cies in the effort to find missing children and 15                   prevent child victimization;

16                   “(10) Congress has given the Center, which is 17                   a private non-profit corporation, access to the Na-
18                   tional Crime Information Center of the Federal Bu-
19                   reau of Investigation, and the National Law En-20                   forcement Telecommunications System;

21                   “(11) since 1987, the Center has operated the 22                   National Child Pornography Tipline, in conjunction 23                   with the United States Customs Service and the 24                   United States Postal Inspection Service and, begin-25                   ning this year, the Center established a new

1 CyberTipline on child exploitation, thus becoming 2 ‘the 911 for the Internet’;

3 “(12) in light of statistics that time is of the es-4 sence in cases of child abduction, the Director of the 5 Federal Bureau of Investigation in February of 6 1997 created a new NCIC child abduction (‘CA’) 7 flag to provide the Center immediate notification in 8 the most serious cases, resulting in 642 ‘CA’ notifi-9 cations to the Center and helping the Center to have 10 its highest recovery rate in history;

11 “(13) the Center has established a national and 12 increasingly worldwide network, linking the Center
13 online with each of the missing children clearing-14 houses operated by the 50 States, the District of Co-
15 lumbia, and Puerto Rico, as well as with Scotland 16 Yard in the United Kingdom, the Royal Canadian 17 Mounted Police, INTERPOL headquarters in Lyon, 18 France, and others, which has enabled the Center to 19 transmit images and information regarding missing
20 children to law enforcement across the United States
21 and around the world instantly;

22 “(14) from its inception in 1984 through March 23 31, 1998, the Center has—

1           “(A) handled 1,203,974 calls through its 2           24-hour toll-free hotline (1-800-THE-LOST)
3           and currently averages 700 calls per day;

4           “(B) trained 146,284 law enforcement, 5           criminal and juvenile justice, and healthcare 6           professionals in child sexual exploitation and 7           missing child case detection, identification, in-8           vestigation, and prevention;

9           “(C) disseminated 15,491,344 free publica-10          tions to citizens and professionals; and 11          “(D) worked with law enforcement on the 12          cases of 59,481 missing children, resulting in 13          the recovery of 40,180 children;

14          “(15) the demand for the services of the Center 15          is growing dramatically, as evidenced by the fact 16          that in 1997, the Center handled 129,100 calls, an 17          all-time record, and by the fact that its new Internet 18          website (www.missingkids.com) receives 1,500,000 19          ‘hits’ every day, and is linked with hundreds of other 20          websites to provide real-time images of breaking 21          cases of missing children;

22          “(16) in 1997, the Center provided policy train-
23          ing to 256 police chiefs and sheriffs from 50 States
24          and Guam at its new Jimmy Ryce Law Enforcement
25          Training Center;

1           “(17) the programs of the Center have had a 2           remarkable impact, such as in the fight against in-3           fant abductions in partnership with the healthcare
4           industry, during which the Center has performed 5           668 onsite hospital walk-throughs and inspections, 6           and trained 45,065 hospital administrators, nurses, 7           and security personnel, and thereby helped to reduce 8           infant abductions in the United States by 82 per-9           cent;

10           “(18) the Center is now playing a significant 11           role in international child abduction cases, serving as 12           a representative of the Department of State at cases
13           under The Hague Convention, and successfully re-
14           solving the cases of 343 international child abduc-15           tions, and providing greater support to parents in 16           the United States;

17           “(19) the Center is a model of public/private 18           partnership, raising private sector funds to match
19           congressional appropriations and receiving extensive 20           private in-kind support, including advanced tech-21           nology provided by the computer industry such as 22           imaging technology used to age the photographs of 23           long-term missing children and to reconstruct facial 24           images of unidentified deceased children;

1           “(20) the Center was 1 of only 10 of 300 major 2           national charities given an A+ grade in 1997 by the 3           American Institute of Philanthropy; and 4           “(21) the Center has been redesignated as the 5           Nation’s missing children clearinghouse and resource 6           center once every 3 years through a competitive se-7           lection process conducted by the Office of Juvenile 8           Justice and Delinquency Prevention of the Depart-9           ment of Justice, and has received grants from that 10          Office to conduct the crucial purposes of the Cen-11          ter.”.
