The Honorable Tim Walz
Governor of Minnesota
State Capitol
75 Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd.
Saint Paul, MN 55155

Dear Governor Walz:

The Committee on Education and Workforce (Committee) writes seeking information regarding recent reports alleging improper payments to, or improper use of public funds by, purported child care providers through Minnesota's Child Care Assistance Program (CCAP) under the authority of the federal Child Care and Development Block Grant Act of 1990 (CCDBG).¹

As you know, CCDBG discretionary funds are combined with the mandatory Child Care Entitlement to States (CCES), and together the two funds are commonly referred to as the Child Care and Development Fund (CCDF).² Minnesota administers its allocation of the CCDF through its Department of Children, Youth, and Families (DCYF). The DCYF is responsible for carrying out its functions in accordance with federal law, including (i) providing various assurances,³ as well as a certification that health and safety requirements are in effect,⁴ (ii) ensuring that the state has in effect requirements, policies, and procedures to require and conduct criminal background checks of child care staff,⁵ and (iii) making certain that state fiscal audits are carried out.⁶

Recent reports raise major concerns that certain providers may have received CCDF payments despite failing to provide child care services. The Committee seeks to better understand the scope of this alleged fraud and the sufficiency of Minnesota’s oversight of child care providers.⁷ The information requested will assist the Committee in determining whether existing statutory safeguards are sufficient or whether other legislative changes may be warranted to protect against waste, fraud, and abuse.

Sadly, these are not the first allegations of fraud in Minnesota that the Committee has addressed. In a letter dated September 4, 2024, regarding fraud in child nutrition programs (i.e., Feeding Our Future), the Committee concluded that “the actions taken by you and other executive officers were insufficient to address the massive fraud.”⁸

Based on recent public reporting, your administration’s oversight of child care centers also appears insufficient. Although Minnesota officials have acknowledged that licensing staff conducted site visits to facilities identified in publicly circulated videos to assess compliance concerns,⁹ these checks do not appear to be sufficiently mitigating fraud. Additional reporting indicates that the Minnesota Department of Human Services’ Office of Inspector General is currently overseeing over 60 investigations involving child care providers, including investigations related to improper payments, record-keeping deficiencies, and compliance failures.¹⁰

While the Committee recognizes the important work of DCYF in supporting working families and promoting workforce participation, the proper stewardship of federal funds is essential to maintaining public confidence in the state’s child care program and ensuring that appropriate resources are directed to eligible families and lawful providers.

Weaknesses in Minnesota’s oversight and payment verification processes may be longstanding. Whistleblower accounts and prior enforcement actions suggest that instances of improper billing, falsified attendance records, and noncompliance with licensing requirements have been identified over multiple years.¹¹ These concerns underscore the importance of evaluating whether existing safeguards are sufficient to prevent improper payments and detect misconduct in a timely manner.

The Committee seeks information regarding Minnesota’s administration and oversight of child care providers to better understand how provider eligibility, attendance verification, and payment integrity are monitored and enforced. The Committee also seeks to understand what steps, if any,

Under House Rule X, the Committee's legislative and oversight jurisdiction is broad, extending to "education . . . generally" and "laws, programs, and Government activities relating to domestic educational programs and institutions and programs of student assistance within the jurisdiction of other committees."¹²

The Committee's jurisdiction includes oversight of federal child care assistance programs, including those authorized under the CCDBG and related programs administered in coordination with states. The Committee is charged with reviewing and studying, on a continuing basis, the application, administration, execution, and effectiveness of laws and programs within its

Should you have any questions regarding this request, please contact Kent Talbert of the Committee staff at kent.talbert@mail.house.gov or 202-225-4527.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. The Committee looks forward to your response.
